

MANY NEW LAWS ARE ON STATUTE BOOKS

FIFTIETH LEGISLATURE APPROACHED THE RECORD FOR LENGTH AND AMOUNT OF WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

A LABORIOUS SESSION

Bill of Entirely New Character Were Before Lawmakers—Legislation Is of a High Quality Say Veterans.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—The fiftieth session of the legislature, just closed, was, with one exception, the longest in the history of the state, having continued from January 11 to July 15, 185 days, or four days less than the record session.

The last session was, however, in actual working days, longer than that of four years ago, because shorter recesses were taken, which, in effect, lengthened the actual time devoted to legislative work.

Laborious Session.

Senator John M. Whitcomb, who has just finished his eighth consecutive session and who is one of the veterans in point of service, declared the present session the most laborious of any in his experience. The same opinion was expressed by Senators H. C. Martin, A. W. Stanborn, Lieut. Gov. Morris and others of the veteran lawmakers.

The work performed, according to the experienced legislators, was not only of a hard nature, but of a high quality. Some of the legislation was of a most advanced nature, which made the work more difficult owing to the small portion of data to be gleaned from other states in previous legislation of like character. The workmen's compensation act, income tax law, social insurance, water powers, conservation of the natural resources of the state, and regulation of corporations.

Governor McGovern is pleased with the session because every plank of the republican state platform on which he ran was fully redeemed. Every party pledge made by the republicans was fulfilled.

Legislative leaders point to the law requested by Governor McGovern providing for the taxation of telephone companies on an ad valorem basis, as most all other property in the state is taxed. This bill they declare was not a platform pledge of the republican party.

While the legislation enacted was of high quality, it was accomplished at comparatively small friction or disturbance. Some of the new laws encountered stiff opposition but were put through. This opposition to the income tax bill was especially strong, the opposition, however, proving ineffective. While it is admitted the new law may be imperfect in some details, yet it is a basis, as outlined by Governor McGovern, for working out some statute along that line which will be just and fair to all citizens.

Without scandal or strife. The session was without scandal, the political or factional strife. The progressive republicans were in control of both houses and were able to put through any bill upon which they agreed. It is, however, admitted on all sides, they used their power with fairness and discretion.

The bill providing for the creation of a fund for the guaranty of state bank deposits failed to become a law, but it caused the bankers to start a movement for an organization of banks for mutual insurance of deposits.

The adoption of the resolution declaring Senator Stephenson bought his seat in the United States senate and requesting that body to investigate his election was one of the important actions of the session just closed.

ARE WITHOUT CLUE TO DARING ROBBERY

Police Have Nothing by Which to Chase Robbers of Silverware From Green Bay Store.

Green Bay, July 17.—Police were yesterday without a single clue to the robbers who entered the Lebowitz jewelry store here and made away with nearly $2,000 worth of silverware. The burglars entered at the rear of the store during the night and left through the front door, leaving it open.

WOMAN DIES LEAVING ONE HUNDRED CANINES

Atlanta, Ga., July 17.—Mrs. Sarah E. Gabbit, aged 77, died here today. One hundred dogs, her household companions, survive her.

Arm Cut Badly: Edward Helder had a deep gash cut in his arm Saturday afternoon when he fell from his wheel through the window of the Slinger machine store on the Corn Exchange. The wound bled quite freely and it was necessary for a physician to take a number of stitches to join the ends and close the wound.

CHOLERA SITUATION MOST SERIOUS NOW; FOUR PERSONS DEAD

Fifteen Cases and Four Deaths at Detention Hospital in Swinburn Island, New York Harbor—Experts Take Charge—Reports From Naples.

New York, July 17.—So serious is the cholera situation at this port considered, that experts from the public health department at Washington reached here today to aid in keeping the plague under control. Of fifteen cases in the detention hospital at Swinburn Island, three have died within the past forty-eight hours. Half a dozen others may die.

All of the steering passengers from the steamer Moltke and Forugh are in the observation wards at Hoffman's Island. After a conference with heads of his department, Dr. Alvah H. Doty, health officer, declared today the situation was well in hand although admittedly serious.

Another Death. A sixteen year old Italian boy who landed on the steamer Moltke two weeks ago died of cholera at Swinburn Island today.

Naples in Plague Throes. Naples, Italy, via Paris July 17.—With foreign shipping virtually at a stand as a result of cholera, and the populace excited over the anti-cholera sanitary campaign, the authorities today prepared to cope with the plague among the lower classes.

Dix Investigates. Governor Dix today demanded a full and detailed report of the situation in a telegram to Health Officer Doty.

Danger is Grave. That there was grave danger of Asiatic cholera gaining a foothold in this country, was the opinion expressed by Surgeon General Walter Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service, today.

STOKES' ASSAILANTS MUST FACE A JURY

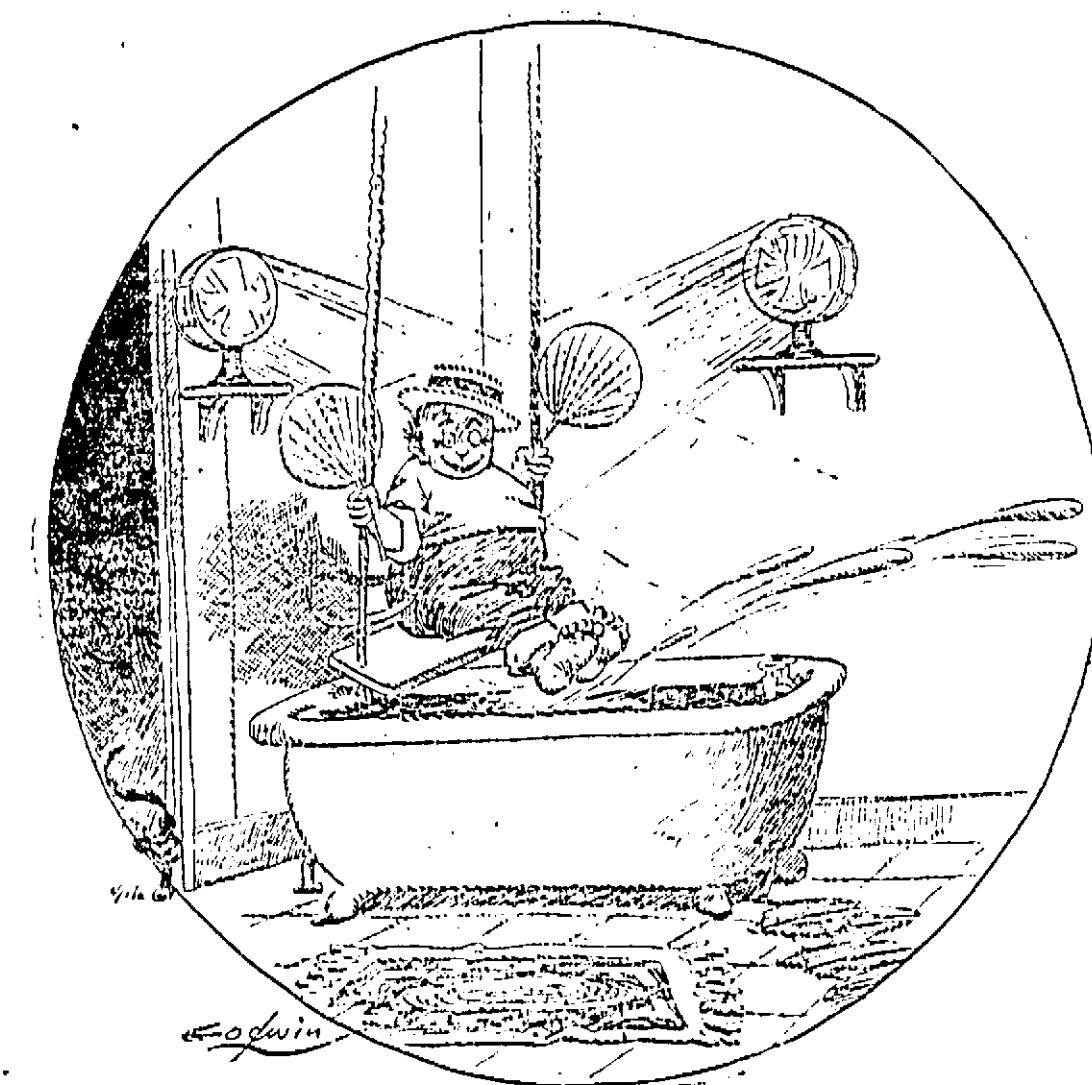

New York, July 17.—Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad will have to face a jury for the shooting of Millionaire Stokes. This was made certain today when the district attorney decided to refuse to permit the girls to tell their side of the story to the grand jury.

DES VOIGN HELD FOR TRIAL ON SATURDAY

Man Accused of Obtaining Money By False Pretenses Ordered To Appear in Municipal Court Saturday Morning.

Walter Des Voign was held for trial Saturday at ten o'clock at the conclusion of his preliminary examination today in municipal court on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses through a worthless check of the "Hixson State National Bank" of Dixon, Ill., from Leslie Davis, a local garage man. The case, adjourned from Saturday to secure the testimony of Davis, was taken up at ten o'clock this morning, Davis being the only witness put on the stand today by the prosecution. Davis told of the circumstances attending the giving of the money on the check to a man, and stated positively that Des Voign was the one for whom he had cashed the check. Des Voign, who conducted his own case, cross-examined the state's witness with regard to a conversation which took place at the fall on July 6 when Davis and a companion visited the bank to see Des Voign. The defendant in his cross-examination tried to bring out the point that Davis had stated that he was not positively sure of the identification of the witness, but the testimony of the witness did not corroborate this. Sheriff Ramsey was called as a witness for the defense to testify regarding this conversation. District Attorney Dunwiddie made a motion to hold the defendant for trial and the court issued the order that Des Voign appear for trial five days hence and notified Des Voign that in the meantime he would appoint an attorney to act for him. Bail was fixed at $500, which the accused man was unable to furnish.

The information in the case will be filed Saturday and the work of drawing the jury will be done, but the case will probably not come to actual trial until a week from today, as the court is closed Saturday afternoon.

STUDENTS TO VISIT STATE INSTITUTION

Those Attending Training School and Their Instructors Will Inspect State School For Blind Tomorrow.

Students attending the Rock County Training school and the instructors will enjoy a visit to the State School for the Blind tomorrow afternoon. The party will leave the high school building at three o'clock and will walk to their destination, where they will be shown through the institution, and will be shown some of the methods used in teaching the blind students. Following the inspection trip through the buildings of the school they will enjoy a picnic supper served on the lawn of the State School. The party will return in the cool of the evening.

It is reported that the training school is running very smoothly at present with about seventy students in attendance. Several new names have been added to the enrollment list within the past week. Of these in attendance all but four are residents of the county. The new quarters for the school in the Jefferson building are fast being completed and are contracted to be finished by the first of August. The summer session will be completed in the high school, however, and the move to the new rooms will be made for the opening of the fall term.

SWEEPING CHANGES IN REGISTRY LAWS TO CORRECT EVILS

Illegal Registration on Voting Lists Remedied by Enactment of Legislature.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—With the knowledge that in Wisconsin there are thousands of names illegally registered on voting lists, the legislature at its session just closed has made a sweeping change in registry methods. In April, 1913, in all cities of the second, third and fourth classes, and villages and towns in which registry is required, there must be a new registry of electors. No old polling lists will be used in whole or in part, and no person's name will be placed upon the list unless the elector appears personally before the inspectors and requests that his name be registered. One additional registration day is to be allowed. In the passage of this law the municipalities of the state have been placed on a footing with Milwaukee, where it is required that all prospective electors shall register in person.

The new statute will bar a large number of aliens who have been voted illegally. Tax requirements have permitted the registry of thousands of men of foreign parentage, who have not been fully naturalized and their first papers. Men not fully qualified for the above reasons have for years acted as election officials in this city, and it is said that there are alien men in this city who are not fully naturalized. The same situation exists in other cities of the state. It is provided in the law that any person whose name is not on the registry, but who is a qualified voter therein, shall nevertheless be entitled to vote at the April election 1913, upon the making of an affidavit in the usual form, one requirement in which is the declaration of citizenship. Another law requires the clerks of all election districts in the state to forward to the secretary of state before the general election copies of all the new registry lists, to be used by the secretary of state for printing lists for the state political pamphlet authorized in the new corrupt practices act.

DATE IS NAMED FOR DIOCESAN COUNCIL

Interest for members of the Janesville Episcopal church is attached to the fact that the date for the annual diocesan council of the Milwaukee diocese has been changed from September to October, 2nd and 3rd. The change has been decided upon by Bishop Webb, on account of the fact that the missionary department of the diocese will be held the week of the 4th and 5th of October. This will enable delegates to attend both sessions without the extra expense of two journeys. The extra expense of two journeys. The plans for the meetings are already being made which will include a public mass meeting addressed by leading missionary workers.

BURGESS REPEATED FORMER TESTIMONY

MANAGER OF DULUTH ELECTRIC COMPANY ON STAND IN LORIMER INQUIRY TODAY.

HIS TALK WITH WICHE

Tells of Talk With Mines' Brother-in-law in Which It Was Stated Jackpot Was Raised to Elect Lorimer.

Washington, July 17.—William Burgess, manager of the Electrical company at Duluth, repeated today before the Lorimer investigating committee the testimony he gave at the Illinois Senate committee's hearing relative to the conversation last March on the train with C. P. Wiche, brother-in-law of Edward Hines, millionaire lumberman, in which the witness testified that Wiche declared: "There was a jackpot raised to elect Lorimer. I subscribed ten thousand to it myself." Asked if he thought it queer a stranger should make a confession of wholesale corruption, Burgess replied: "I always did. That's why I asked who Wiche was when we got off the train."

Accused With Cook. On cross-examination, Burgess said he was acquainted with W. H. Cook of Duluth, whose version of his conversations with Hines have been disputed by Hines.

The witness said he talked with Cook about coming to Washington to testify and Cook merely remarked: "You'll have a hot time." "Didn't he say 'Give 'em hell'?" inquired Hines' counsel. "He did not," Burgess insisted there was no ill-feeling between the Hines' Lumber company and himself over the charge made to the company ten years ago for the use of the Black River dam. Burgess admitted he was not certain where Wiche said, "A jackpot had been raised to elect Lorimer, or whether one hundred thousand had been raised."

HOPKINS CASE WAS TAKEN UP TODAY

Examination of Man Accused of Theft of Money From Rosasco Saloon Commenced This Morning. Municipal court chambers were the gathering place for a small crowd of the curious and sensation seekers this morning for the various cases on the docket. At the conclusion of the Des Voign and Layton cases into this forenoon, the preliminary examination of John Hopkins, charged with stealing twenty-two dollars in a leather sack from the saloon of Thomas Rosasco on South River street, on the night of July 11, was taken up, the state commencing the presentation of its side of the case. Backed by Mrs. Kate Kennedy and her husband, Robert Kennedy, Hopkins had secured an attorney, John L. Fisher representing Hopkins in the action. The first witness for the state was Thomas Rosasco, from whose saloon the money was taken, and the events of the evening on which the robbery was committed were related by Mr. Rosasco. He also identified the fifty cent piece which he swore was in the money bag on the evening of the eleventh. The half dollar was included in the silver taken from Hopkins' pockets when he was searched. Officer Patrick Manning, who arrested Hopkins in a saloon on South River street, also took the stand for the state. The examination adjourned at noon until this afternoon. Charles Locke, who was in the saloon at the time Hopkins is alleged to have gone behind the bar and taken the money from the drawer in the back-bar in which it was kept, and John Winck, bartender for Rosasco, were witnesses examined this afternoon. Paul Luebke, a liquor dealer on South River street, who found the leather sack in which Rosasco placed the money, also gave testimony for the state. The state rested its case about three o'clock and a short recess was taken. Mrs. Kate Kennedy was sworn as a witness for the defense after the recess, testifying as to the character of the defendant.

LIGHTING WAS THE SUBJECT DISCUSSED

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Industrial and Commercial Club, held this noon, the special committee on lighting, composed of Oliver King and Lewis, were also present and the subject was thoroughly discussed. Several proposed factory matters were also taken up. It was decided that the lighting committee meet next Monday with the Mayor and council to more fully discuss the street lighting problem. Knights of Columbus Attention: All members of Carroll Council No. 596, Knights of Columbus, are requested to meet at the St. Paul depot at 8:30 this evening, Monday July 17, to meet the remains of Brother John Flaherty. It is also desired that as many as possible meet at St. Patrick's church on Tuesday morning, at 8:45 to attend the funeral in a body. Frank Ryan, Deputy G. K.

FINED FOR DUMPING RUBBISH IN STREET

Mrs. Hannah Lawton, 317 North High Street, Paid $4.55 for Not Heeding Warning of Street Commissioner.

On complaint of Street Commissioner Dan Wilkins, Mrs. Hannah Lawton, 317 North High street, was summoned to court this morning, the summons charging Mrs. Lawton with depositing ashes and other refuse in North High street in violation of Ordinance No. 76 of the city statutes which prohibits the dumping of refuse of any kind in the thoroughfares of the city. Mrs. Lawton pleaded guilty to the charge, but stated that she had considered it her right to burn papers in the gutter and had placed some refuse in a can in the gutter for the street commissioner to haul away. The court assessed a small fine, $2 and the costs of the action, or $1.55 in all, which Mrs. Lawton made arrangements to pay.

The case today is the first prosecution instituted by the street commissioner to keep the people of the city from using the streets as a dumping ground for debris. The street commissioner has been carrying on a vigorous campaign against such practices and, it is said, warned Mrs. Lawton against it. The case today is said to be only the beginning of a crusade to make the streets of the city presentable and future offenders will undoubtedly be more severely dealt with.

Three Men in One.
A witty writer has observed with much truth that every man is, in a sense, three different men. In the first place, he is the man he thinks himself to be; in the second place, he is the man other persons think him to be; and, finally, he is the man that he really is.

To Be Popular.
It is astonishing how much you can learn from people in social intercourse when you know how to look at them rightly, but it is a fact that you can only get a great deal out of them by giving them a great deal yourself. The more you radiate yourself, the more magnanimous you are; the more generous of yourself, the more you will get back.

Voice of Despair.
In a St. Petersburg newspaper there recently appeared the following advertisement: "The wife of a present member of the duma, having given up all hope of getting intelligent occupation, seeks a place as chambermaid."

Professional Superiority.
The radical type of golf enthusiast is exemplified in the report of a St. Andrews caddy to the university professor: "Oubody can teach a wheen loons Latin and Greek, but gowf, yo see, gowf requires a hold."

Didn't Need a Fast One.
A Milwaukee boy, when teased about taking his best girl riding behind the old spavined family horse, replied: "Well, speed ain't no object."—Kansas City Star.

Meaning of Platonic Love.
"She tells me that there's a platonic love. What does that mean, hubby?"
"Means that we'll have to dig up for a wedding present in about two months."

FATHER AND SON IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

E. Matthews and Small Son of Johnstown Were Badly Bruised in Accident Saturday—Other News.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Johnstown, July 17.—What might have resulted in a serious accident Saturday afternoon at the home of E. Matthews was narrowly averted. Mr. Matthews was going to the repair shop with some buggy wheels and his little boy was also in the wagon. He noticed one of the lines was unsnapped and got out to fix it, when the team started to run, throwing him to the ground.

He was holding to the side of the wagon with one hand and trying to guide the runaway team with one line with some difficulty. They were stopped a short distance from home. Father and son were both badly bruised, but no bones were broken. The boy who was lying in the wagon box and was unconscious for a time on account of the violence with which he was thrown. Dr. Miller of Whitewater, was hastily called to attend to their injuries.

GRASSKOPPERS EAT OATS AND TOBACCO

Pest Does Much Damage To Crops the vicinity of this city have done Janesville.

Grasshoppers that have been noticed in large numbers in the hay fields in the vicinity of this city, have done much damage to oats and are now attacking the tobacco. They have cut so many of the kernels from the oats before they were cut that the farmers near South Janesville fear that they will not get more than half a crop. It was feared by some that the crop would be damaged by the long drought, but those who have cut their crop say that the grain is of good weight and quality and would have been a good crop if the insects had not attacked it. Their depredations are much more injurious to the crop than the dry weather has been, and much of the late oats are still in danger of being more seriously damaged. Where hay fields border on those where oats or tobacco is grown the damage is greatest as the insects flock to the standing crops when the hay is cut. The farmers are much afraid that the tobacco may be seriously damaged by these insects and they can do very little to prevent their depredations.

Like depredations have been made on the oat crop in the northern sections of Illinois by grasshoppers and army worms and the farmers in some places have been forced to thresh their crop early in an endeavor to save it.

PERFECT HEALTH ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE

Manner of Living in Large Cities, Such That Perfect Health Is of Unusual.

In a recent interview one of the physicians who are introducing the remarkable new tonic "Tona Vita" to the American public, had this to say:

"The manner of living in the larger cities of the United States is such that perfect health is almost impossible; the human machine will not run true and strong day after day with its vitality continually being sapped by the constant nervous strain. Inevitably, hours, heavily eaten food, the wear and tear of rush of city life, are largely responsible for the immense amount of dull, listless, half-sick people of the present generation. Debility or a 'run down' condition as it is called, is everywhere. Half the people I see in street cars, restaurants, theatres, or on the street, are unmistakably in a debilitated condition, with their nerves in such a state that they either wish to be down and rest or rush after some excitement."

"Any one who has not a constant stream of nervous debilitated people as I have since I began my present work, can tell a man or woman in this condition at a glance. I wish to emphatically state that the number of debilitated people in the larger American cities, is appalling."

"Tona Vita," the medicine I am helping to introduce, is to combat this condition. I believe it to be the best preparation ever before sold to the public, in that it is immediately effective in cases of debility and other troubles that go hand in hand with this disease."

"You can not hope to enjoy life or meet with much success if you are tired all the time, have little ambition, and feel continually depressed in mind and body. Every half-sick, worn-out man or woman, owes it to themselves and their family, to try 'Tona Vita.' If the tonic does not make life more worth living, and brings back the healthy, energetic spirit, that is now lacking, the price is refunded. The Smith Pharmacy has the agency for 'Tona Vita' in Janesville; also for Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the purest and best family laxative on the market. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative will not injure the most delicate constitution, it is ideal for children."

DEFENDS HITCHCOCK.

So many are the criticisms of the federal officeholders that it is interesting to discover one that really approves of the actions of the postal department. The Christian Science Monitor not only approves of the management of Hitchcock as postmaster general but comments in the following manner on his work:

"No one of the older departments of state is showing more activity than the one over which Postmaster General Hitchcock presides. He may be charged with shortcomings as a politician, but he also has an executive and organizing skill that makes him an efficient department head, able to initiate and carry through reforms on his own account and equally competent and loyal when he is called upon by the President to carry out a policy which interests the chief executive. Mr. Hitchcock must be credited with constant and consistent advocacy of postal reforms. With deposits aggregating not far from $1,000,000 July 1, with deposits increasing in number and the size of their accounts, with the hostility of banks diminishing, and with the department proceeding to establish new stations at the rate of 150 per week, the postmaster general cannot be blamed if he smiles contentedly on critics of the system."

"Realizing that the demand for a parcels post is rooted in the needs of rural more than of urban dwellers, Mr. Hitchcock is wisely leading congress to strengthen the rural delivery service, so that, when the parcels post law is enacted, requisite machinery for the task of competing with the express companies will be in readiness, in part at least. To help on this equipment of the working force, carriers' salaries during the coming year will increase $100, an item involving $1,000,000 for the taxpayers, but earned in most cases by the man who assumes the task of distributing intelligence and who may soon be called upon to act as national expressman. Postmaster-General Hitchcock says that on rural routes no extra expense, above this increase of salaries, would be involved were parcels post at once established; and that, on the other hand, the swift and huge increase in postage revenue that would follow would go far to extinguish the deficit which the rural delivery now causes. He has been right so often in his predictions during his long term of office that the public and congress now listen to him with confidence."

"In addition to the demand for the parcels post that springs from careful observation of its working in Europe, there is the added element in its favor now that leaders of both American political parties realize that a claim to have made it a part of the national postal system will be a good asset in the coming presidential campaign, pending which the interstate commerce commission is to shed much light on the express companies, now formally answerable to this investigating and rate-making tribunal. The senate as at present constituted is the only power supporting the opponents of the parcels post in a fight with the President, the House, and the country."

MAKING CITIZENS.

This great country of ours is growing rapidly. Each year the population increases, foreigners cross the broad Atlantic to become residents of this western continent, and one of the interesting and important points established by an analysis of the immigration returns of two years is the fact that many of the arrivals of this country annually are wrongly classified racially. All those who come from Russia are by no means Russians, nor are those who come from the Turkish empire, as a rule, Turks. It is, of course, unnecessary to say that of those immigrating from the Austro-Hungarian empire only a part are either Austrians or Hungarians. The folly of classifying immigrants in a general way, nationally or racially, will be apparent to anybody who considers for a moment what would be the result of calling immigrants from all parts of Great Britain and Ireland, Englishmen.

Of more than 300,000 immigrants from Russia in the two years, the Russians proper numbered less than 30,000. As classified by the statistical abstract of the department of commerce and labor, immigrants from Austria-Hungary and from southern and southeastern Europe, aside from the native German, Magyar and Hebrew peoples are Croats, Slovenians, Ruthenians, Slovaks, Bohemians, Moravians, Rumanians, Bulgarians, Servians and Montenegrins. Then, of course, there are the Spanish and Portuguese, Greeks and the Italians. Classified in a more comprehensive way, or in racial groups, it would appear that American citizenship is being recruited in these days in proportions represented by the not insignificant of the two years about as follows: Latin, 396,240; Slavs, 385,065; Teutonic (the foundation colonial strain), 383,528. This classification does not include Hebrews, Greeks and miscellaneous minor races represented by 216,619 immigrants in the period covered, 1909-10. Against the 263,000 Italians arriving in the country during the period, over 200,000 returned.

The conclusion is drawn from this analysis that, while the influence of the Slav and Latin may in the near future be more distinctly felt than formerly, the Teutonic-Geltic will continue to be the dominant type. In other words, that branch of the human family broadly called Anglo-Saxon promises to prevail indefinitely in the composition of the citizenship of this republic.

MEANS BUSINESS.

Street Commissioner Wilkins means business when he says that garbage and refuse must not be dumped in the streets or on vacant lots. He has started the ball rolling with the issuing of a warrant for an alleged offender and says he means to find out if the city ordinance is any good or not. It should be the duty of every property-owner to see that this particular ordinance is enforced, doing away with this one source of disease-breeding spots if possible.

Janesville merchants are much exercised over that fifty-five hour a week labor law for women employees. It will make a decided difference in many cases and mean much figuring as to how to evade it and still have the work done.

The great benefits of the income tax have not as yet been discovered, but may be some day soon. Meanwhile the lawyers are figuring out how to make a test case to discover if it is valid or not.

Madero ought to have a little lighter lid made for his revolutions as some of the insurgents down in Mexico may break out from restraint at almost any time.

Washington decided that one peep into the Illinois political field was enough and postponed the Wisconsin inquiry until next fall.

Mr. Bryan is still working overtime as the self-appointed dictator of the democratic party.

UNCLE WALT

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

In her wigwam, neat and small, pretty Little Yellow Shovel sat dreaming of her lover, who had gone away to school—brave and stalwart. Twisted Nose, son of an AN INDIAN Ring-bone-uh-uh. Toes, who could whip anybody, could ride a bucking mule. "Oh, the noble Twisted Nose was a terror to his foes (all the paleface came and told him that) but in truth was a fool, and he was content to fight, he should learn to read and write, so the maiden's stalwart lover left her alone and went to school. Now she hears her lover's call!" "Oh, my darling Yellow Shovel, let me take you to my bosom, for you are my one best bet!" But she shuddered and she sighed: "Push yourself away," she cried, for he wore a crimson necktie and he smoked a cigarette! "You've loved when held and ruled, but they've made of you a dandy, with your money bon-trousers and your dinky rah-rah lid! Never more shall Yellow Shovel come to greet you at your call, who will never be your honey or your little kateydid!" (Chorus: Oh, the noble Twisted Nose went and pawned his rah-rah clothes, and he wears a rusty blanket and a streak of purple paint, and to Little Yellow Shovel he is turned in the fall, and he hollers ever after in his wigwam queer and quaint.) Alarums and excursions.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TWO INCIDENTS.

Patrolman Sweeney of Brock avenue, New York city, saw a thief coming out of a bakery. The robber carried his swing under his arm.

Sweeney grabbed the man and took his plunder away from him. Meantime the owner of the bakery stood in the doorway crying lustily, "Pinch him!"

The bundle was opened, and Sweeney found two loaves of bread.

And then there Patrolman Sweeney deliberately violated the laws made and provided. He did not arrest the thief.

Patrolman Edward Sweeney, due Irish cop that he is, reached down into his pockets for 10 cents. And then—glory be—he paid the baker for the stolen bread and sent the holly cheeked man straight home to his starving family.

Any stickler for law enforcement will tell you that it was Sweeney's duty to drag the man to jail and let the family starve.

Louis Bailey of Chicago was ravenously hungry. He stole 5 cents worth of doughnuts. A patrolman caught him red handed—sitting on a park bench eating the stuff. He was taken to the police station. But—

On the bench was a judge with a heart in him.

Said Municipal Judge Sabath to Bailey: "You look like a good man, and it is hard for a good man to go hungry."

"I'm going to send you to the bridge for two days. They will give you all you can eat. Then they will bring you back here, and I will send you to a man who has agreed to give you a job. You must work hard and make good, then you will not need to steal something to eat."

Now—

Did Sweeney do right when he paid the baker and let the man go back to his family with the bread?

Did Judge Sabath do right when he gave Bailey a nominal sentence, got him a job and gave him good advice?

There's nothing in the laws telling them to do this.

But Sweeney knew his man was not a criminal, but a good man out of work and with a starving family. And Judge Sabath knew every normal man would prefer to earn his bread rather than to steal it.

Therefore—

In both these cases practical good sense and humane feeling were joined to a broad comprehension of duty and justice was tempered with mercy.

Give us more Judge Sabaths and Patrolman Sweeneys!

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. Macy.

THE GREAT CAT HOAX.

Every generation has its practical jokers. In the year 1315, shortly before the departure of Napoleon for St. Helena, some person in the city of Chester, England, caused hundreds of handbills to be scattered throughout the city, announcing that the island of St. Helena was overrun with rats, and that an immense number of cats were wanted to exterminate them. These having cats for sale were advised to be on hand with them at a certain place on a certain day. Sixteen shillings would be paid for each full-grown tomcat, ten shillings for each full-grown tabby, and two shillings sixpence for each kitten that could feed itself. The result was astonishing. On the appointed day the city was literally covered with people carrying cats; men, women and children from the surrounding country. A riot ensued, and about 1,000 cats were killed. The rest got away, and for a long time afterward the city and surrounding country were infested with cats of all kinds, breeds and descriptions. The perpetrator of the hoax wisely kept in the background.

Luxury.

I know it is more agreeable to walk upon carpets than to lie upon dunce floors; I know it is pleasant to have all the comforts and luxuries of civilization, but he who cares only for these things is worth no more than a butterfly, contented and thoughtless upon a morning flower; and who ever thought of leaving a tombstone to a last summer's butterfly?—Henry Ward Beecher.

Uncle Eben's Definition.

"Envy," said Uncle Eben, "is generally due to the way you let your imagination run away with you in picturing good times that other folks ain't really havin'."

FEDERAL OFFICIAL IS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Tristram B. Johnson, Solicitor of Navy Department, Is Struck Dead on Golf Links.

Washington, July 17.—Before the eyes of scores of society women and men well known in official life and almost within a stone's throw of the Chevy Chase clubhouse, Tristram B. Johnson of New York, recently appointed solicitor of the navy department, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Francis D. Poe, with whom he was playing was stunned but not seriously hurt.

Mr. Johnson was going over the course in company with Mr. Poe. When the two started out the sun was shining brightly, but before they were half way over the course a terrific thunder storm broke.

The two men sought shelter and while waiting for the storm to pass there was a vivid flash of lightning and the bolt, attracted evidently by Mr. Johnson's golf stick, enveloped him in flame for an instant. Mr. Poe was stunned, but not seriously injured. The body was brought into Washington and taken to Mr. Johnson's apartments at the Marlborough.

Mr. Johnson is a resident of New York and was only recently appointed solicitor of the navy department.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of the dead man, is in Atlantic City with their two children.

WILEY'S FOES SOUGHT BY COX.

Indian Wants to Know What Interests Fight Chemist.

Washington, July 17.—Saying persistent efforts to have Dr. Harvey W. Wiley removed from office have been made by "powerful special interests whose welfare in life attaches more to the dollar than to the health, happiness and prosperity of the people," Representative Cox of Indiana, Democrat, introduced a resolution calling for further information.

His measure contemplates a broad investigation of the Wiley case as was contemplated when the house committee on expenditures in the department of agriculture decided to investigate the charges made against Doctor Wiley, in connection with the department personnel board's recommendation for his removal.

Mr. Cox declared that he wanted to find out what interests were after Doctor Wiley.

Too True.

"What's one man's get-rich-quick scheme," said Uncle Eben, "is often a get-poor-sudden scheme for a whole lot o' folks."

Even His Temperature.

A Peruvian Jew at Johannesburg was so ill that a trained nurse had to be sent for. When she came on duty her first remark was: "Now I'll take your temperature." To which the Jew replied: "You can't; everything is in my wife's name."—Sporting Times.

Heaven.

In the philosophy of some men heaven is nothing but a place where everybody will be able to buy cheap and sell high.

Not a Strong Point.

No man ever won respect through his ability to tell salacious stories.

RAILROAD TIED UP BY FARMERS.

Fear Sparks and Erect Barricade of Logs on the Track.

Kewanee, Ill., July 17.—Logs chained across the railroad track between Hoopville and Tampico by irate farmers, who objected to the operation of steam engines on a road that they had expected would be operated by electric power, have been removed by the men who put them there and next week it is believed the service will be normal. The blockading of the track has created great excitement along the line.

It is understood that the principal objection on the part of the men who placed the barriers was the danger from sparks in their dry fields and the fear they could not secure adequate reimbursement for losses. Superintendent Ryker has offered to put up bonds. This railway offers the only railway service from Yorktown and Hoopville, so the interference with traffic was a serious matter to those towns.

BISHOP MALLALEU VERY LOW.

Death of Methodist Churchman Expected at Any Hour.

Boston, July 17.—The condition of Bishop W. N. F. Mallaleu of the Methodist church continues critical and death is hourly expected. The vitality of the venerable churchman is at a low ebb.

Members of the family remain at his bedside and it is extremely doubtful if any favorable change occurs.

Inquiries have been received from all over the country regarding the churchman's condition, and prayers have been offered for his recovery in all the churches of New England.

FIGHT STREET DUEL; TWO DEAD.

Patrolman and Convict Have Deadly Battle in Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 17.—Jerry McCarthy, a convict, who escaped from the Minnesota penitentiary last March, fought a revolver duel with Patrolman Ollinger in which both men were killed. Ollinger saw McCarthy trying to break into a local drug store. When he attempted to arrest him McCarthy opened fire. Each fired four shots, and all took effect.

Patience.

Patience is not much of a virtue when it is utilized for the purpose of teaching a dog to hop on three feet.

Light in Ocean's Depths.

Distinct traces of light have been detected at the great depth of 500 fathoms below the ocean surface by Sir John Murray's oceanographical expedition of 1910. More recently, brightly colored organisms have been dredged up from an even greater depth, in the form of rose foraminifera with rose pink shells.

Beautiful Sympathy.

Sympathy is one of the great secrets of life. It overcomes evil and strengthens good. It disarms resistance, and melts the hardened heart, and develops the better part of human nature.—Mountford.

Hard Enough.

"Do you expect to rank as one of the leaders of thought in your generation?" "My friend," answered Senator Borah, "it's hard enough work to be a senator for an office in your own time without trying to jolly posterity."

Immense Nugget of Gold.

A placer claim in Calaveras county, California, yielded in 1857 a lump in which there was quartz, that, when pounded up, gave a return of 161 pounds of gold, valued at $28,920.

Suppose a man happened to be upon an airship when the world came to an end, what would become of him?—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

An Appropriate Combination.

"The English ought to send a baronet as representative at the court of Algiers." "Why so?" "Because then they will strike the natural combination of a knight and a dey."

Too True.

"What's one man's get-rich-quick scheme," said Uncle Eben, "is often a get-poor-sudden scheme for a whole lot o' folks."

Even His Temperature.

A Peruvian Jew at Johannesburg was so ill that a trained nurse had to be sent for. When she came on duty her first remark was: "Now I'll take your temperature." To which the Jew replied: "You can't; everything is in my wife's name."—Sporting Times.

Heaven.

In the philosophy of some men heaven is nothing but a place where everybody will be able to buy cheap and sell high.

Not a Strong Point.

No man ever won respect through his ability to tell salacious stories.

Alum for Household Use.

Alum should never be absent from any household. It has a very good effect if applied to bleeding wounds, as it checks the loss of blood. Boiled in milk in small quantities it is good for toothache. It must be held in the mouth, not swallowed. For bleeding of the mouth or tongue, a wash in cold water in which alum has been dissolved is very effective.

Man's Mission as a Citizen.

Some have said that it is not the business of private men to meddle with government—a bold and dishonest saying, which is fit to come from no mouth but that of a tyrant or a slave. To say that private men have nothing to do with government is to say that private men have nothing to do with their own happiness or misery; that people ought not to concern themselves whether they be naked or clothed, fed or starved, deceived or instructed, protected or destroyed.—Cato, the Elder.

The Exceptional Case.

A West Virginia farmer found on many snakes in his meadow that he quit farming and went to hunting elsewhere for oil. Now he has sold his share in an oil well for $1,500,000. It has done at least one man good in "see snakes."

CALIFORNIA TORNADO KILLS TWO.

Five Others Are Seriously Hurt; Property Damage Heavy.

Thermal, Cal., July 17.—Two men were killed, five severely injured, many other persons suffered minor injuries and much property damage done by a terrible windstorm approaching a tornado in violence which struck El Centro, county seat of Imperial county, Cal. All telegraph and telephone wires in Imperial county were blown down and only meager details of the storm could be learned.

Says Kin Burned Castle.

Vienna, July 17.—Count Karl Esterhazy, whose castle burned on July 3, has notified the police that he has conclusive evidence that relatives hired incendiaries to set fire to the castle because they hated him as the owner of an entailed estate.

Isolated Train Stop; Killed.

Grand Rapids, N. D., July 17.—The insistence of two men, James Kraft and C. James, that the Oriental Limited stop at Michigan, N. D., led to their death. They remained on the track in spite of the whistle.

PROTECT YOUR CATTLE FROM FLIES AT LITTLE COST

Make your own fly chaser. Don't pay a big price for ready-made mixtures. One gallon of Crowden makes four gallons of the strongest fly chaser. Keeps the flies off dead and keeps them off; cows don't switch at milking time and kraze in peace. Costs you 45c a gallon mixed and ready for use. Worth many dollars in comfort to you and the stock. We buy it by the barrel. Also kills lice and can be used on horses; not sticky or full of tar. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts.

HEALTH IS THE BEST INHERITANCE

To those who wish to give their children a clean and wholesome inheritance, the TURKISH BATH is a subject fraught with great importance, for few would relish the idea that from their faults their grand-children are to be miserable and sickly.

The use of the TURKISH BATH is a most satisfactory method of developing a sound and healthy body, as well as a great help toward eradicating hereditary tendencies to disease and bringing about a more reasonable manner of living.

WILL MAIL CHECKS TO BOND HOLDERS

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF RECENT CELEBRATION REACH DECISION.

STATEMENT ISSUED

Bonds Will be Redeemable Between Forty and Fifty Per Cent on Their Face Value.

While the figures are not all completed as to the total expenditures of the recent military celebration, Treasurer John Gollner made the statement at a committee meeting this noon, that between forty and fifty per cent of the total bond issue would be redeemable. He said:

"There are still several collections to make as well as some bills to pay so that our figures are only approximate. However, the redemption of the bonds will be between forty and fifty per cent and I shall probably mail the first checks to the individual bond holders this afternoon and tomorrow morning."

The following statement was drawn up and subscribed to by the members of the executive committee of the celebration with the request it be published:

"Having learned that the treasury will be able to pay forty cents on the dollar from the funds received from the recent military celebration, we hereby authorize the treasurer, Mr. John Gollner, to make such payment. That he is instructed to make the checks out payable to the individual bond holders, from the stubs on the bond books, mailing them as soon as possible. That later when all bills have been paid, if there is a surplus in the treasury, he is instructed to pay an additional redemption above the figure named."

"Signed,
CARL BUCHHOLZ, Chair.
DAVID ATWOOD.
JOHN GOLLNER.
P. E. LANE.
GEORGE KUECK."

This means that the checks will be mailed to the individual bond holders and that if they have disposed of their bonds they should turn the checks endorsed, over to the new holders. The executive committee has nothing to go by but the stubs from the bond issue and no record of any transfer of bonds has been kept and consequently will go on the conclusion that the bonds are still retained by the persons to whom issued.

If the bond holders desire to donate the money to the proposed hospital fund, to the Park Association, to the Permanent Fourth of July Fund or to the United States Spanish War Veterans, under whose auspices the celebration was held; they are at liberty to do so as individuals after receiving their checks.

Inundation of the Nile.

The valley of the Nile is inundated regularly every year from the 15th of June to the 17th of September. When the river subsides it leaves a rich deposit of soil for six miles on each side of the stream. Sometimes the overflow is excessive, but if the inundation falls short failure of crops results. In 1829 the flood was so great as to cause the loss of 20,000 lives and the destruction of much property.

NEGRO FIGHTER WAS SENTENCED TO JAIL

George David, Colored Porter Who Punished "Whitelighter," Given Ten-day Term for Drunkenness.

George David, colored, a porter in a local harbor ship, was sentenced to ten days in the county jail this morning in municipal court for drunkenness in default of payment of a fine of five dollars and costs. The man's arrest was the outcome of a free-for-all scrap last evening in which he was badly beaten about the face. When the negro appeared in court this morning his left eye was totally closed and his face showed the effects of the rough treatment he had received.

The fight, it is said, was the outcome of a premeditated attack on David by several of the characters known about town as "Whitelighters." They insulted the black, it is alleged, and finally attacked him on South Main street. The negro, who had been drinking heavily, was a veritable "Jack Johnson," and gave his assailant a terrible "trimming," but received hard treatment at the hands of the other members of the gang. David finally broke away from them and took refuge in the shop where he was employed. The colored man related arrest when the officers came for him, but was finally taken from the building. He pleaded guilty to the drunkenness charge this morning.

John Metzger and John Mooney went down for five days for drunkenness for lack of funds to pay fines of $3 and costs and $2 and costs, respectively. George Owen and Arthur Donovan are serving six day terms for the same offense, fine of $4 and costs and $3 and costs being assessed, which they were unable to pay.

BLAZING METEOR WAS SEEN IN HEAVENS AT LITTLE AFTER EIGHT

Wonderful Sight Viewed by Many—Lasted But a Few Seconds—Looked Like a Big Sky-rocket.

Throwing a great light, a fiery meteor sped across the heavens Sunday evening shortly after eight, disappearing into the eastern horizon almost as quickly as it appeared from the west. Richard Valentine and Clara V. Wells were two of the Janesville residents fortunate enough to witness the phenomenon and Mr. Valentine's description of it is quite graphic. Mr. Valentine was returning from Lake Mills in his auto, and had just left Milton Junction, when the fiery ball appeared in the west, seeming, but two hundred feet in the air, coming from the direction of the county farm. It had a tail, which looked to be some thirty or forty feet long, the ball of fire seemingly as big as the moon.

"It looked like a huge torch," said Mr. Valentine. "When it first appeared it seemed to be emitting sparks like a sky-rocket and it went behind the sky, looking in and out behind the few clouds making a wonderful sight. I would have to have been anywhere near where it landed. It looked but a few hundred feet in the air, but I am told it must have been some two hundred miles or so up."

This same meteor was seen in Chicago and the suburbs and caused considerable commotion. At Williams Bay, at the Yerkes observatory, however it did not appear, the clouds obscuring the vision. From the observatory comes the statement that meteors usually burn in the air, although they often fall to the ground. They also stated they had not viewed an unusually luminous one for some time.

Origin of the Meteors.

According to astronomers the origin of meteors was in doubt until the early part of the eighteenth century, when, after careful observations, it was determined that they came from outer space. Several theories have been advanced since then to account for them. The most generally accepted one is that they are parts of comets that have broken up, but scientists are by no means agreed that this explains all of them.

Probably the greatest fall of meteors recorded by scientists was in 1833, at a time when a comet was due to appear. Since then at irregular intervals there have been showers of meteorites, or "falling stars." A number of meteors have found their way into collections.

Thousands of others have burned up before they reached the earth. The largest collection of meteors in the

EDWARD WILSON IS TAKEN TO MENDOTA

Was Brought to This City Saturday From Cook County Institution Where He Was Adjudged Insane.

Edward Wilson, who formerly lived on a farm in the town of Janesville, five miles northwest of this city, and who has been held in the Jefferson Insane asylum in Cook county for nearly two weeks, was brought to Janesville Saturday morning, by an attendant of the hospital and delivered to Sheriff Hanson.

Wilson was examined Saturday afternoon by Doctors H. W. Elden and S. B. Hunkemiller, who pronounced him mentally deranged and he was committed by Judge Sale to the Mendota hospital. He was taken there this afternoon by Sheriff Hanson.

Nearly six weeks ago Wilson was before Judge Sale to determine his sanity on the complaint of his neighbors in the town of Janesville who declared he was crazy for his horses and other animals he possessed, a shotgun which he used without cause and that he was dangerous. At that time nothing was found in the matter with the man.

After the hearing he moved from the farm and went with his wife and children to Chicago where he was arrested for kidnapping his own son. He was later taken to the Jefferson asylum there. His wife has returned to Janesville and is now employed by Mrs. James Flaherty. The children were taken by relatives and friends of the mother.

Plantain a Tropical Blessing.
The plantain is a native of the tropics which helps to keep man's harder filled. The plantain is credited with having grown in the Garden of Eden alongside the tree from which Eve plucked the apple. Its fruit is used much as are bananas and its "cabbage" is esteemed a great delicacy.

Clearly Complimentary.

A writer whose Christmas money perhaps ran short, and who is obviously trying to comfort himself with the thought that "her" birthday is yet to come, remarks that "the one kind of gift always acceptable to a woman is something, anything, in cut glass." It is a wise saying, and one to be explained on the principle that like attracts like. She, like cut glass, reveals now beauties the longer one studies her.—Chicago Press.

FIFTEEN CHOLERA CASES MENACE NEW YORK CITY

Health Officer Believes Situation Would Not Be Serious Were It Not for Incoming Ships.

New York, July 17.—The cholera situation at quarantine is regarded by Dr. Alyn H. Doty, health officer of the port of New York, as being well in hand, but he does not conceal his apprehension that New York "is in the very midst of a threatened invasion of cholera."

Further, Doctor Doty declared, "the quarantine department of every port in the country is facing a serious and onerous task during the coming summer," and it is not improbable that many vessels arriving from Italy during the next few weeks will bring one or more cases of the disease.

The official report of the situation shows that there are 15 cases of the scourge at Swinburne island hospital and four other cases symptomatic of the disease. Within the last twenty-four hours one more victim has died. The steamer Perugia has been detained and the medical staff is preparing to make bacteriological examinations in the case of each of the 248 persons from the steamer Moltke who are now under observation.

It is possible Governor Dix will be called upon to take charge at quarantine. Charles Dushid, attorney for the immigrants, whose charges against Doctor Doty are being investigated by a commission, made public a letter he wrote to Judge Huger of the commission suggesting that Judge Huger call upon Governor Dix to take charge of the health officer's department.

OFFERS MILLION FOR CASTLE.

Morgan's Tender for Relic Is Being Considered by King.

Budapest, Hungary, July 17.—Emperor-King Francis Joseph has under consideration what is reported to be a tentative offer of $1,000,000 by J. Pierpont Morgan for the throne curtain and other priceless relics of Matthias Corvinus, king of Hungary in the fifteenth century.

The relics the American financier is said to be bidding for constitute a part of the heretofore collection in Castle Gulgorec, the hereditary castle of Count Imre Edeedy. Not only the relics, but also the castle and the estates surrounding it to the number of 14, forming the Gulgorec Comitat Nobilit, are also sought by Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan first offered, it is said, $14,000 for King Corvinus' throne curtain. Count Edeedy refused to sell the curtain.

According to the story, Mr. Morgan then made an offer for other relics, and finally said he would be willing to buy the relics, castle, lands and all.

UNPATRIOTIC ACT IS DENIED.

Ambassador Wilson of Mexico Says He Rose at National Hymn.

Mexico City, July 17.—Denying published accounts of alleged unpatriotic conduct at a breakfast on July 4, attended by President De la Barra and several members of his cabinet, Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador, gave out a signed statement in which he said that when the American national air was played the ambassador was the first one to rise to his feet and was immediately followed by President De la Barra and all the members of the company present. Wilson was charged with failing to arise to his feet when the national hymn was played.

SUMMER PARK SWEEP BY FIRE.

Columbus Resort Loses Seven Buildings—Crowd in Panic.

Columbus, O., July 17.—Seven buildings, which housed that number of places of amusement, together with the paraphernalia in them, were destroyed and a crowd of probably 1,000 persons was thrown into a panic last night by a fire in Olentangy park, a summer resort. The fire-swept district extends over an area about the size of a city block. The park is located at the extreme north end of the city. Several persons were injured in the panic, but it is not believed any fatalities resulted.

WAKES AFTER THREE MONTHS.

Girl Can't Believe She's Slept That Long; Slumbers Again.

Vandalia, Ill., July 17.—Waking of her own accord and remaining awake an hour and a half, Miss Hazel Schmidt, daughter of former Alderman George Schmidt, learned that she had been asleep just three months. "I can't realize this is true," she said. "I don't feel one bit bad, and I would be all right if I could only stay awake." She suffers no pain now, her appetite is good and she has gained in flesh within the last week. Her physician believes she will be up and around in three weeks.

GIRL SETS SWIMMING MARK.

Miss Warren of Newport Lowers Own Record for 3 1/2 Miles.

Newport, R. I., July 17.—Miss Constance Warren, Newport's leading society girl exponent of outdoor sports, broke by 20 minutes her last summer's swimming record between Bailey's beach and the Forty Steps. Her time was 1 hour and 50 minutes. The course was three and one-half miles. After the swim Miss Warren attended the Vanderbilt dinner party. Miss Mimi Scott, the seventeen-year-old daughter of George I. Scott, jumped into the surf at Hazard's beach and swam across the point to Bailey's beach, a mile and a half.

She Does.

FATHER AND CHILDREN DROWN.

St. Louis Man With Son and Daughter Lose Lives.

St. Louis, July 17.—Frank Ducler, forty-one years old, drowned with his son and daughter, Thomas and Mary, three and thirteen years old, respectively, while a crowd on the Mississippi river bank restrained the wife and mother, who tried to leap in after the struggling trio. The children were in a skiff when the boy overturned it. The father dove for the children and reappeared with one in either arm, but thus handicapped was unable to swim and the three were drowned before others could aid them.

Quincy, Ill., July 17.—John Eckelschulte, aged twenty, fell from a skiff and was drowned in the river here.

South Bend, Ind., July 17.—Oscar Steinhilck, a hardware merchant of Bremen, Ind., and Charles Anderson, were drowned and two other men narrowly escaped a like fate at the Lake of the Woods, near here when a sailboat in which they were riding capsized.

CHURCH MOB ATTACKS PRIEST.

1,500 Men and Women Fight Madly at South Bend, Ind.

South Bend, Ind., July 17.—Trouble which has been brewing during the last seven weeks culminated when a mob of about 1,500 men and women made an attempt to prevent Rev. Paul Von Kovacs, who came here recently from New York, from celebrating high mass at St. Stephen's Hungarian Catholic church.

The priest escaped injury only through the foresight of Chief of Detectives William Cassidy in stationing a squad of 45 policemen in the vicinity of the church. The police charged the crowd with drawn clubs the moment the rush for the clergyman was made. The result was a riot in which 250 to 300 Hungarians were severely beaten.

As soon as the police succeeded in arresting the ringleaders and sending them to the central station the rioters dispersed.

UPHEAVAL NEAR IN PARAGUAY.

Partisans of the Ex-War Minister Threaten to Start Revolution.

Buenos Ayres, July 17.—Dispatches state that a new upheaval in Paraguay is imminent. The provisional president, Doctor Rojas, being aware of a plot of partisans of Colonel Jara, changed the commanders of the regiments affected. The minister of war, General Ibanez, then resigned, and immediately afterward was appointed minister to Chile, Peru and Bolivia in order to get him out of the country. The senate met and approved the policy of the president and passed a bill granting general amnesty. Meanwhile the friends of Colonel Jara are busy and a new revolution is feared.

Treaty a Blow at Chinese.

Peking, July 17.—China has been indulging in the hope that the Anglo-Japanese alliance would not be renewed. The signing of the revised treaty, therefore, has caused some surprise and disappointment here, but the reiterated pledges regarding China's integrity have given satisfaction.

BALLOONIST DROPS INTO SEA.

Gets to Shore in Jersey by Swimming a Mile.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 17.—A. J. Roberts, the aeronaut who started in his dirigible balloon from New York for Philadelphia Saturday afternoon, was found in an exhausted condition on the beach of Deal, near here, having been compelled to swim more than a mile in a rough sea to shore. Roberts, after being in the air several hours, discovered that he was being carried out to sea. He immediately pulled the rip cord of his gas bag. By the time the air craft descended, however, Roberts was carried more than a mile to sea and was compelled to swim that distance to shore. The dirigible was not recovered.

Roberts is an Australian and has made a reputation as a serial pilot in England.

Eric, Pa., July 17.—J. C. (Bud) Mars, the aviator, hurt in a fall with his aeroplane, will recover, and will be able to leave the hospital in about ten days. This announcement was made by the attending physicians after further examination of the injured man. Mars' injuries are not nearly so severe as at first reported.

Denver, Colo., July 17.—Dropping from a height estimated at 4,000 feet in a parachute, Wayne Abbot, a Denver aeronaut, landed on the front end of a street car, his feet smashing the glass of the motorman's vestibule.

Forty passengers were badly frightened. Abbot was severely bruised about the head and shoulders. He had a narrow escape from death, saving himself from striking a 1,000 volt electric wire only by frantic struggles, which swerved him over the car, which he had not seen until he struck it.

WALES WILL TOUR THE WORLD.

British Throne Heir Will Probably Make New York First Stop.

Washington, July 17.—A report here says the British admiralty is arranging a voyage for the new prince of Wales, to begin probably in the fall. The itinerary is around the world, westward from Liverpool, which would make a visit to the Atlantic ports, presumably New York, the first stop. Whether one of the new Dreadnoughts or the royal yacht Victoria and Albert will be used remains to be decided. Gossip has it that the young prince will visit all the British colonies to give him an idea of the extent of his future possessions.

INDIAN PRINCESS TO UNVEIL STATUE.

At left, Princess Laura Miriam Cornelius. At right, Statue of Indian designed by Lorado Taft. In center, Lorado Taft. Oregon, Ill.—Great preparations are being made for the unveiling of Chicago's statue of an Indian hero. The statue is colossal in size, the work of Lorado Taft, and stands on a bluff above Rock River near here. The ceremony of unveiling will be performed by the last Princess of the Onondaga Indians, Miss Laura Miriam Cornelius of Seymour, Wisconsin. She is a granddaughter of Daniel Breen, Dr. Charles Eastman, who is also a full-blooded Indian, will deliver an address. Lorado Taft will be accompanied to

ROYALISTS ARE REENFORCED.

Portuguese Monarchists Joined by 2,000 Men From Island of Madeira.

Lisbon, July 17 (via the frontier).—It is reported that 2,000 men from the island of Madeira, where all are ardent monarchists, have joined the Portuguese royalists in Spain and are now awaiting a large consignment of arms and ammunition from Belgium to replace those seized recently.

The Maro Popular says that the religious question continues to be the cause of rioting and disorders throughout the country. At Povo de Lanhoso a religious procession ended in violent collisions between Catholics and Republicans. Some priests joined in the fray, dealing lusty blows right and left. Troops finally intervened and restored order.

Priests throughout the whole of northern Portugal have refused the pensions offered by the government.

J. W. GATES APPEARS TO GAIN.

Financier, Ill in Paris, Shows Some Improvement.

Paris, July 17.—John W. Gates, the American financier, whose condition was alarming a day or two ago appears to be gaining.

The condition of Mr. Gates, according to the attending physicians, is appreciably better.

The congestion of the kidneys has diminished considerably, and the attention of the physicians is now being directed to the heart.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

A HEART-TO-HEART TALK WITH HIMSELF BY A GRIEVANCE LOVER.

(Certain characters seem to need grievances as they do some indispensable article of food in order to maintain the attitude of discontent with which they torture their family and friends.—Dora Melepari in Makers of Joys and Sorrows.)

"I AM very happy this afternoon. I have a grievance. It is a splendid grievance and it is against the whole family. I am deeply hurt. I shall sulk for hours and everybody will come to me and try to placate me. I shall have a beautiful time as soon as the family get home."

"Yes, they are all away. That is my grievance. I said I might possibly get home today and yet they went off auto riding with the Benches. Of course I haven't been gone but three days, and of course they don't get auto rides often, but still I think they might have been at home to greet me."

"It just shows how little they care about me. It shows how little account I am in my own home—doubt if they'd care if I didn't come at all."

"There, I've worked myself up splendidly and here they come. I'll have to open the front door, but I won't say a word until they speak to me."

"Well, I think I did that pretty well. I didn't say a word of reproach, but, by the way, I asked them how they enjoyed themselves, and the short way I answered them when they asked me what kind of a time I'd had, showed them how I felt."

"They all know I'm hurt and they're trying to be as nice as pie to me. They just wanted to know what I'd like best for supper and I said I didn't make any difference, in a tone that showed I felt how unimportant I was."

"I don't know whether I can show my displeasure by staying here and just answering in monosyllables. Think on the whole I'll get the most out of it if I stay here."

"What an absurd idea. Someone tried to make me believe that I didn't say I'd get home before tomorrow. Do they think I'll give up my grievance that easily? I guess not."

"Won't I come in the library and sing with them? No, of course I won't. I couldn't do more than that if I were feeling real pleasant."

"Mrs. Benches has asked them to go autoing next Sunday, and they think it would be fun if I took someone's place. I love autoing, but I told them I wouldn't think of that. I'll go, all right, but I'll keep them begging me before I say yes."

"Oh, thunder, here's some company coming in the front gate. That means I'll have to be decent. You can't parade grievances in front of company, you know. They don't understand. They simply think you are disagreeable. I guess I'll carry out my other plan and go up in my room and close the door."

"Well, now, I call that a good parting shot. They called to me not to go upstairs, the handbells were coming, and I said very coldly, 'I don't seem to be included in the invitations that are extended to this family. I don't imagine their guests will miss me very much.'"

"Mother looked as if she was going to cry."

"I think I got its full value out of that grievance, all right. I don't know when I've had so good a one."

A FEW ENTREES.

Marrow Bones With Tenderloin.—Cut the bones four inches long; cover each end with a round of dough to keep in the marrow. Tie the bones in a cloth, cover with boiling water and boil one hour. Remove cloth and paste and serve on or around tenderloin steak. Another way of serving the marrow is to spread it on pieces of hot toast. Dust with cayenne and salt and serve.

Mignons of Beef Deviled.—Cut tenderloin steak three-fourths of an inch thick, cut and roll in rounds. Broil over a clear fire for five minutes.

Mix a tablespoonful of mustard, one of Worcestershire sauce and two of chopped pimento. Spread on the beef, dip in crumbs and brown.

Lyonnaise Tripe.—Cook two tablespoonfuls of onion in two tablespoonfuls of butter; add two cups of cooked tripe cut in strips; cook ten minutes. Serve on buttered toast; sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot with butter and garnish with finely chopped parsley.

Bananas Fried in Crumbs.—Remove the skins from six bananas, cut in halves lengthwise, then crosswise. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and lemon juice, dip in flour, egg, crumbs and fry in deep fat. Garnish with lemon and parsley and serve with lemon sauce.

Stuffed Peppers.—Cut the tops from eight red or green peppers; remove seeds, cover with boiling water and parboil five minutes. Fill with chopped chicken and breadcrumbs well seasoned. Arrange in a baking dish and bake half an hour.

Tomato Stuffing for Peppers.—Mix a cup of tomato pulp drained from juice, one-half cup of bread crumbs, and one cup of stock; add two tablespoonfuls of flour and two of butter which have been cooked together. Season with salt, pepper and onion juice.

TALK TO HOUSE-KEEPERS

(By Nellie L. Horn.)

"If a better system is mine, I must try it; if not, make use of mine."—Horace.

Especially at this time of the year, all femininity is luxuriating in the dainty ribbon-up underwear, and bearing the labor entailed in running the ribbon through each week's supply. However, the work may be reduced to a minimum in a very simple way. Before removing the ribbon, sew a narrow tape to one end, and pull out by the other end. This pulls in the tape which should be left in during the laundering, the ribbon having been detached therefrom previously to washing. Always wind the ribbons on a spool and they will be kept in good condition. When the garments have been ironed, sew the end of the ribbon to one end of the tape, and draw the tape out by the other end, thus reinserting the ribbons in "no time."

Another laundry hint that may be of some help in regard to the ironing of taffeta or lace edged handkerchiefs. To be sure, we all know how to dry them on a mangle or a pane of glass, but we all don't know the easiest method of placing them there. Take a clean whisk broom and carefully brush the wet handkerchiefs onto the glass until the linen is smooth and the lace or taffeta is flat and in position. The straws of the broom pull out and arrange all the tiny pleats with comparatively little work.

Many of the "men folks" have a prevailing habit of carrying handkerchiefs until they have attained a stage of grime that even hard rubbing will not remove. To women these, or any articles that have become yellow from boiling, soak them over night in a solution of bleach and warm water. Wash in the usual way next day, and they will come out beautifully white.

We have all experienced the painful accident of running a silver straight into the finger, and the still more painful process of removing it. Next time this happens, nearly fill a bottle with hot water and hold the mouth of the bottle over the intruding silver. The steam will draw out not only the silver, but also the inflammation.

During the hot weather it is almost impossible to keep cheese for any length of time, and it is not always convenient to use it all at once. If you cut it in long strips and put it in a tin jar, screwing the cover on tightly, and keeping it in a cool place, you will find that it will keep fresh until the last piece is used. Berries will also keep fresh for days in this way, providing, of course, that they have not been washed.

With the thermometer soaring as it has this summer, it is highly improbable that lemons would have a chance to spoil or dry up in any household. Still, a hint on the successful keeping of lemons may not come amiss. Place them in a jar of water and set in a cool place, changing the water once a week. They will keep perfectly fresh for a long time, and will only increase in juiciness.

Some Women We Ought to Know

Dr. Alice Marvel and All Who Have Laid Down Their Lives for Their Sisters.

AMONG the windows in the Cathedral at Liverpool commemorating the deeds of good women is one to Dr. Alice Marvel, and all who have laid down their lives for their sisters. The name of Alice Marvel is little known in America, perhaps little known outside of England and her India possessions. But through the action of the Cathedral authorities in thus recognizing and honoring her work, she will at last come into her own, and receive that world-wide appreciation which her brave life merits. And although she did not work for any such reward, it is but just that it is given to her; for by thus giving it, her life becomes known and becomes an inspiration to others. For all who do great things, as did Alice Marvel, help not only in the doing, but in the example they leave to live through the ages as inspiration and encouragement to others.

Alice Marietta Marvel was born in 1865. Taking up, rather late in life the study of medicine, she qualified at the age of 36, and after due preparation offered herself for work in the tubercular field. St. Catherine's Hospital at Cawnpore was established in connection with the S. P. G. in 1899. It was offered wholly by women, and was intended for the use of native women shut out by custom from ordinary medical attendance. To this hospital, Alice Marvel was sent as junior doctor; and when the plague settled down in Cawnpore, she labored without cessation. During the last month of her life, she paid 246 visits to patients in the city. Weakened by the strain, she contracted the disease, and passed away in 1904.

Only those familiar with the condition of women in India can fully appreciate what the work of Alice Marvel would mean to them. That she labored faithfully when she saw the needs, shows the kind of woman she was. It is this sort of heroism the world is always in need of. Fortunately, as the years go by, the danger of death from attacking to one's task grows less. But the need of sticking is just as great. There is work needing to be done right in the slums of our own large cities, work that is repulsive, that is a daily battling with a thousand annoyances and discouragements and seeming failures. But there is just as great need to work unweariedly and without cessation as there was when battling with the plague at Cawnpore. And it is in this that the lives of such workers as Alice Marvel are an inspiration. For if they could stick to their task, surely we can also; especially as we do not face death as they did with such sublime courage.

Without such workers, the world cannot get on; and it is glorious to think that we can help in this way, and leave the world happier and better because we have lived in it.

WHAT DO YOU DO TO PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT?

Summer Time, and Cool Home Ideas—Either in the City or Country—Can You Tell About It?

There are so many means of providing entertainment for your guests during the summer months that it would not be hard to make some suggestions that would benefit others.

The idea of giving a party or an entertainment in the hot summer months is always a burden to the average hostess. How to entertain her guests without making them feel bored or uncomfortable from the heat is a problem.

This contest is open to all women readers of the Gazette. Send in your suggestions to the Feature Editor and try for one of the prizes offered. Your articles do not have to be too long but should explain in detail your plans.

Of course, the more novel the idea

the better it is. Prizes are never out of place but the question is, what to do at a picnic. Launch parties, moonlight rides up and down the river, even hay rides and clam bakes are possibilities now.

Green corn is coming and if you have never had a corn on the cob supper out in the woods beside some stream or lake, or at least at some farmhouse, you have missed something.

There are so many ways of enjoying a summer outing with friends that your suggestions will be invaluable. Write on one side of the paper only and address to the Feature Editor of the Gazette.

First Prize—Colorful Fireless Cook-stove.

Second Prize—Set of 45 pieces of Flow Blue Dishes.

Third Prize—Vacuum Bottle.

Fourth Prize—Sampson Kitchen Scales.

The contest will end August 1st.

A GRAPHIC PICTURE OF BURNING FOREST

STORY OF THE TERRIBLE SCENES AT SOUTH PORCUPINE IN ONTARIO.

ESCAPES FROM DEATH

Residents Had To Stand In Water While Their Homes Were Destroyed Before Their Eyes.

Through the presence of Henry Skavlen, son of Halvor Skavlen of this city, in the Porcupine country of Canada, which was recently the scene of a terrible forest conflagration, there is much interest locally in the recent disaster.

Mr. Skavlen escaped unhurt, but went through an experience he will not soon forget. His mine was also one of those which escaped damage, but adjacent properties were totally destroyed, and in some cases lives in the shafts were killed through suffocation. It was a terrible fire that swept miles and miles of valuable timber lands from the face of the map.

The Hurkram, a daily publication based in Toronto, which deals directly with the country's news exclusively, has the following story of the fire to tell which shows the manner in which many escaped death by the merest chance. In their issue of Friday last they print the following:

Every train is bringing to Toronto many of those who passed through the fires of Sunday and Tuesday. Each has his own particular story, and each story is full of human interest.

One of the most thrilling was told by a member of a party of five who was in South Porcupine when the flames struck the town. This party consisted of A. D. and J. A. Williams—father and son—L. P. Ashburn (all three of Kansas City, Missouri), J. D. M. Wardrop of Hamilton, and C. M. McCaffery.

"We saw the danger," began the member who told the story, "when the flames struck the town. This party consisted of A. D. and J. A. Williams—father and son—L. P. Ashburn (all three of Kansas City, Missouri), J. D. M. Wardrop of Hamilton, and C. M. McCaffery.

BIRTHDAY OF AGED EVANSVILLE WOMAN

Mrs. Mary Blackman, For Over Sixty Years a Resident of Wisconsin, Celebrated Her Ninety-second Birthday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, July 17.—Mrs. Mary Blackman celebrated her ninety-second birthday Saturday at the home of her son, Johnathan L. Blackman, who lives two and a half miles northeast of here. Mrs. Blackman was a native of Ohio and came to Wisconsin in 1848 and settled on the farm where she is now living and which has been her home for the past sixty-three years. Her husband died twenty-seven years ago.

She has three children: Johnathan, with whom she resides; Charles, of Evansville; and Mrs. Cynthia Little of Springfield, Missouri.

Mrs. Blackman is enjoying good health and is very active for one of her years.

Entertained For Guest. Mrs. Walter Green entertained a few friends Friday at a tea party given for Mrs. Mattie Love Andrews of Marshfield, Wis., who is the guest of Mrs. Nettie Stuyven. Mrs. A. R. Clifton of Reedburg was among the guests. Miss Lizzie Gilles also entertained Saturday evening for Mrs. Andrews.

Personal Mention. Irwin Winters, secretary of the Montana state reform school, is here from Miles City to spend a ten days' vacation with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Winters, and other relatives and friends.

John Scheible, Jr., of Sheboygan, is visiting at the home of his son here.

Miss Edith Henway of Chicago arrived Saturday evening and will spend a two weeks' vacation as the guest of her uncle, Frank Franklin, and other relatives.

Arthur Deaconson spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Edgerton.

Miss Clara Oberz, Lillian Spencer, Wilma Phillips and Margaret Colony were home from Whitewater to spend Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baker went to Oconomowoc Saturday to visit his father. They made the trip in the touring car and were accompanied to Milwaukee by Mrs. Walter Tuller and grandsons who have been visiting relatives here.

The many friends of Mrs. J. W. Ames will be pleased to learn that she was in no way injured when their automobile turned turtle as they were returning from Kegonsa after the rain a few days ago. Nothing could be further from the truth than the report that a farmer who was passing by refused to aid them.

The farmers living in that vicinity and those who drove by rendered them every possible assistance in their power, and their kindness will not soon be forgotten by Dr. and Mrs. Ames.

Robert Hall who is attending summer school at Whitewater spent Saturday and Sunday with Evansville relatives.

Miss Marian Ames and Messrs. Paul Ames and Elmer Uphoff spent Sunday at Lake Kegonsa.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Stoughton, Wis., July 17.—Janesville property owners at Lake Kegonsa will be interested to learn that the marine delivery of mail at this lake cannot be started this summer. The signature with which the letters are sent to the department too late to receive immediate action for the establishment of the service this season. The service will be started next season about June 15 or July 1.

Over 165 cottages scattered along about four and a half miles of lake shore will be served. The trip will start from Stoughton, go up the Yahara river channel for five miles and along the lake about seven miles and return, in all twenty-five miles daily.

Geo. S. Parker arrived Saturday to spend Sunday at his cottage at the Janesville camp.

BROOKLYN. Brooklyn, July 15.—Miss Mary Holt attended the annual meeting of the Book County district school boards at Janesville Thursday.

Grant Henway has purchased a new J. I. Case threshing machine. Mrs. Bennett Williams of Berkeley, New York, has come to spend the summer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh John.

Miss Sadie Ames has been spending a few days at Lake Kegonsa. Mrs. Harry Orwin of Cottage Grove, and Mrs. Edward Dusebeck of Sun Prairie, are guests at the Every home.

Mrs. Elsie Walte, and two sons of Montana, are visiting at the G. E. Walte home. Owen Roberts is erecting a new porch on his residence.

Miss Verma Alder of Sycamore, Ill., is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Virgil Hopkins.

Mrs. Irving Wallace of Evansville, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Murray Wednesday and Thursday. Misses Mary and Anna Roberts went to Bass Lake Wednesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morrison, who are camping there. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilder and son, Theodore, visited relatives in Beloit Friday. They made the trip in their auto.

The Happiest Children. The happiest children are those who have happy mothers. The young life which grows up in the shadow of a discontented, repining and gloomy mother is like a plant watered by kindly dews. It is apt to be dwarfed and stunted. Even when things are evoked and temptations to be harsh come, let the mother, for her sons' and daughters' sake, try to be happy.

FELLOWS. Follows, July 15.—Mr. Secher of Waterloo was in this vicinity the forepart of the week.

Scarlet fever has again invaded these parts. Miss Olga Burg has it in a light form.

Mrs. C. Whaley and Mrs. Owen Whaley of Dunkirk spent Wednesday with Mrs. T. Frusher.

Illud help is rather scarce in this locality.

T. Frusher was a Janesville caller the middle of the week.

Natvick Stonehage, second trick operator, is laying off. He is being relieved by Operator Aledson.

Michael Holden was elected treasurer of the school board and George Holden, chairman.

Michael Holden attended the school convention in Janesville Thursday.

Frank Montgomery is reported on the sick list.

Leo Barnard is having his home fixed up.

Mr. and Mrs. Corsaw were Evansville callers Wednesday evening.

Town Line. Town Line, Beloit and Rock, July 15.—The community was greatly shocked to learn Thursday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Ida Tolles Van Slyke, which occurred at Chicago July 12, 1911.

Ida A. Tolles was born in the town of Janesville April 1, 1870. In the spring of 1892 she moved to the town of Beloit with her parents where she resided until her marriage to Menzo Van Slyke, February 28, 1895. Since that time she has made her home in Chicago. Although her health had not been good for some time her last illness was of very short duration. She was able to be about the house Tuesday morning, but shortly after lost consciousness and it was thought best to remove her to North Chicago Hospital for treatment which was done Tuesday evening where she passed away at 1:55 P. M. Wednesday. Uremic poisoning was the cause of her death.

Mrs. Van Slyke was of a very happy disposition, an ideal wife and mother. Besides her husband and one son, E. Dale Van Slyke, there are left to mourn her loss her father, A. P. Tolles, and brother, Willard Tolles, of the town of Beloit, and a sister, Mrs. Edward Rice of the town of Turtle.

Deceased was a member of Patience Rebecca Lodge No. 62, Chicago, and attended the Baptist church of that city.

A service was held at her late home at 10 o'clock Thursday. Rev. Robinson conducting the service, which was followed by the Rebecca service.

The remains arrived at Janesville Thursday evening and a service conducted by Rev. Hazen of Janesville was held at the home of her father, Friday at two o'clock. Song service was rendered by R. K. Overton and Mrs. Brown of Shepley. Interment was made in Turtleville cemetery.

FARM NOTES. Not Written for Farmers. By H. L. RANN.

We notice with a good deal of pleasure that the seersucker coat is backing into fashion again as the proper evening dress. Harper's Bazaar says it is entirely all right, elegant, elite and de rigueur, which is good enough for us.

Next to the double-breasted kimono, which can be turned and worn as a tea gown, the seersucker is the greatest utility garment ever devised by the merchant tailors of Paris, France.

There is nothing that will set off a man's form any better, unless it is the belted night shirt. A lean man in a seersucker coat and knee pants can break more trusting hearts on the golf links than a cement mixer can plaster together in a week.

We saw a tender young thing of thirty-eight summers fall in love with a low-cut seersucker and full Durham cigarette one afternoon, and she hung on his neck in the club house until he had to turn the hose on her. The seersucker, properly made, should be cut long in front and short behind, thus developing the manly proportions of a 30-pound chap to an extent which will make a real man chew the sound board off of the piano. Heretofore the seersucker has always been considered the proper dress for such occasions as throwing a carton of oil into a gaunt pig or yanking the handles off of a hard-milk cow as the sun's last rays fall athwart the hen house, but it is now coming into its own.

We don't know anything on the farm that is a bigger nuisance than the inquisitive goat, which is continually butting in. He is harder to restrain than an Angus bull with a grouch. A goat whose curiosity has never been curbed can cause more family jars than cold feet. One day a farmer's wife of our acquaintance was entertaining the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society when an itinerant goat walked into the sitting room on his hind legs and kicked the minutes of the preceding meeting through a motto of "God Bless Our Home."

The prying, long-nosed goat with a drooping lip is liable to butt in on a pious family any morning in the midst of prayers, and interrupt the peroration of a thirty-minute invocation by a playful punch in somebody's stomach. This is one of the penalties of goat fellowship with the goat, which has about as much sense of gratitude for favors received as a low-spirited mule.

EMERALD GROVE. Emerald Grove, July 17.—The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanson in their recent bereavement. Funeral services for the little twins were held Saturday, the Rev. C. H. O'Neill officiating.

Miss Irene O'N of Chicago, is the guest of Miss Edith Barless.

Rev. C. A. O'Neill and family visited Delavan Lake on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Lloyd are the proud parents of a baby boy, which arrived on Thursday.

The social at W. J. Florin's was well attended and enjoyed by all. The lawn was prettily lighted with Japanese lanterns and tables were set on the porch. The program also was enjoyed. Much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Florin for their work and the result was well entertained.

Miss Christine Robinson of Chicago, is visiting at the Van Gilder home.

Bertha and James Crooks visited relatives at Stoughton recently.

Queer "Bonds" of Matrimony. A young couple, natives of Ceylon, appeared recently before a magistrate in Ohio and asked to be married. All the forms required by the state were complied with, but before the law officer could perform the ceremony a witness who came with the couple bound the thumbs of the contracting parties together. They explained that in their country the act of fastening a man to a woman by the thumb was a sufficient marriage ceremony.

Not for the Poor Man. The girl who doesn't take care of her clothes is no wife for the poor man; she needs some one who can give her an unlimited dress allowance and a maid to look after her, says Home Chat. There is another point. If it is too much trouble to take care of her clothes before, it will be too much trouble to take care of her house-keeping stores after marriage, with the result that a large part of them are wasted.

Two Classes of Immigrants. Persons who are strongly impressed by the fact that we are receiving more than a million immigrants yearly through the gate of New York city should not forget that we are yearly receiving in the United States about 5,000,000 babies, who make this country their first earthly port.

Diet for the Tuberculous. The diet prescribed for tuberculous sufferers is plenty of pure milk—all the patient can drink, or what is usually more to the point, all he can afford, and six eggs a day. According to the doctors it doesn't matter about the status of the egg, so long as it has not commenced to "sprout."

Rare Diseased Plant. An exceedingly rare but occasional plant, found in the Valley of the Nile, is a diseased plant, whose exquisite bloom is apple white, properly packed, orchids will remain from forty to fifty days in condition and remain in a healthy condition.

Love Your Friends. Love your friends, and do not put them from you. Tell them of your love not once but often; and do not merely tell it, but prove your words to them and repeat the proof. Open your heart and love them kindly. Make merry for them, make them happy, give them brightness, make your home cheery for them! The lost opportunities, we most regret were opportunities for loving.—The Better Way.

Incidence in Births. Here is the tale of a most remarkable coincidence as told by Hildeford (Mo.) papers: Ben Coolbrith of North Saco has two sons and two daughters, all married and all living in Massachusetts. In one mail last week he received four letters, one from each of his four children, and in each of the four was the announcement of the arrival of a daughter in the family on Monday.

Here is the tale of a most remarkable coincidence as told by Hildeford (Mo.) papers: Ben Coolbrith of North Saco has two sons and two daughters, all married and all living in Massachusetts. In one mail last week he received four letters, one from each of his four children, and in each of the four was the announcement of the arrival of a daughter in the family on Monday.

Love Your Friends. Love your friends, and do not put them from you. Tell them of your love not once but often; and do not merely tell it, but prove your words to them and repeat the proof. Open your heart and love them kindly. Make merry for them, make them happy, give them brightness, make your home cheery for them! The lost opportunities, we most regret were opportunities for loving.—The Better Way.

The Taming of Red Butte Western

CHAPTER III.

A LITTLE BROTHER OF THE COWS.

As a parting kindness to Lidgerwood Ford had transferred one of the cows from his own private car to Lidgerwood's service, and the little man, Tadashi Matsunari by name and a subject of the Mikado by race and birth, came to the car door to call his new employer to the breakfast table as the service car approached Crosswater Gap. It was an attractive table, well appointed and well served, but Lidgerwood, temperamentally single eyed in all things, was diverted from his reorganization problem for the moment only. Since early dawn he had been up and out on the observation platform, noting, this time with the eye of ownership, the physical condition of the road.

To a disheartening extent the Red Butte demoralization had involved the permanent way. Originally a good track, the roadbed and equipment had been allowed to fall into disrepair under indifferent supervision and the short-handling of the section gangs. Lidgerwood had seen how the ballast had been suffered to sink at the rail joints, and he had read the record of careless supervision at each fresh swing of the train, since it is the section foreman's weakness to spoil the geometric curve by working it back, little by little, into the adjoining tangent.

Reflecting upon these things, Lidgerwood's comment fell into speech over his cup of coffee and crisp breakfast bacon. "About the first man we need is an engineer who won't be too excited to get down and squint curves with the section boss," he mused, and from that on he was searching patiently through the memory card index for their list man.

At the summit station, where the line leaves the Tunnishk basin to plunge into the western desert, there was a delay. Bradford, the conductor, black shirted and looking in his slouch hat and riding leggings more like a horse wrangler than a captain of railroad trains, lounged in to explain that there was a hot box under 201's tender. Bradford was not of any faction of discontent, but the spirit of morose insubordination, born of the late change in management, was in the air, and he spoke gruffly.

"Were the boxes properly overhauled before you left Capital?" demanded the new boss.

Bradford did not know, and the manner of his answer implied that he did not care. And for good measure he threw in an intimation that round-house dops kettles were not in his line.

Lidgerwood passed over the large impudence and held to the matter in hand.

"How much time have we on 201?" he asked, train 201 being the west-bound passenger overtaken and left behind in the small hours of the morning by the lighter and faster special.

"Lidgerwood" got up and went into the car to consult the time table hanging in the office compartment. Train 201 had no dead time at Crosswater; hence if the ten minute interval between trains of the same class moving in the same direction was to be preserved the passenger would have to be held.

The assumption that the passenger train would be held aroused all the railroad martinet's fury in the new superintendent. In Lidgerwood's calendar time killing on regular trains stood next to an infringement of the rules providing for the safety of life and property. His hand was on the signal cord when, changing to look back, he saw that the passenger train had made only the momentary time shed stop at the summit station and was coming on.

This turned the high crime into a mere breach of discipline, common enough even on well managed railroads when the leading train can be trusted to increase the distance interval. But again the martinet in Lidgerwood protested. It was his theory that rules were made to be observed, and his experience had proved that little infractions paved the way for great ones. In the present instance, however, it was too late to interfere, so he drew a chair out in line with one of the rear observation windows and sat down to mark the event.

Pitching over the hilltop summit, within a minute of each other the two trains raced down the first few curves incline almost as one. Mile after mile was covered, and still the perilous situation remained unchanged. Lidgerwood began to grow uneasy. On the straight line stretches the following train appeared to be rushing onward to an inevitable rear end collision with the one car special, and where the track swerved to right or left around the hills the pursuing smoke trail rose above the intervening hill shoulders near and threatening.

Lidgerwood left his chair and went again to consult the time table. A brief comparison of miles with minutes explained the effect without excusing the cause. Train 201's schedule from the summit station to the desert level was very fast, and Williams, nursing his hot box, either could not or would not increase his lead.

Williams and Bradford might be deliberately trying the nerve of the new boss. The presumption did not breed fear; it bred wrath, hot and vindictive. Two sharp fangs at the signal cord brought Bradford from the engine.

"Do you call this railroading?" Lidgerwood rasped, pointing backward to the menace. "Don't you know that we are on 201's time?"

Bradford scowled in surly antagonism.

"That blamed hot box"—he began, but Lidgerwood cut him off short.

"The hot box has nothing to do with the case. You are not hired to take chances or to hold out regular trains. Go forward and tell your engineer to speed up and get out of the way."

"I got my clearance at the summit, and I ain't dispatchin' trains on this jerkwater railroad," observed the conductor coolly. Then he added, with a shade less of the belligerent interest: "Williams can't speed up. That house under the tender is about ready to blaze up and set the woods afire again right now."

Once more Lidgerwood turned to the time card. It was twenty miles farther along to the next telegraph station, and he heaped up wrath against the day of wrath in store for a dispatcher who would recklessly turn two trains loose and out of his reach under such critical conditions for thirty hazardous mountain miles.

Bradford, looking on sullenly, mistook the new boss' frown for more to follow, with himself for the target, and was moving away. Lidgerwood pointed to a chair with a curt "Sit down," and the conductor obeyed reluctantly.

"You say you have your clearance card and that you are not dispatching trains," he went on evenly, "but neither fact relieves you of your responsibility. It was your duty to make sure that the dispatcher fully understood the situation at Crosswater and to refuse to pull out ahead of the passenger without something more definite than a formal permit. Weren't you taught that? Where did you learn to run trains?"

Mr. Lidgerwood, he said, half humorously. "But, Lord love you, that's the old 210 chasin' us with the passenger, and she can't catch But Williams and the 400 in a month o' Sundays if we didn't have that dog-goned squeaked leg under the tender. She sure couldn't."

Lidgerwood smiled in spite of his annoyance. "But it isn't railroading," he insisted, meeting his first pupil half-way and as man to man. "You might do this thing ninety-nine times."

The sentence was never finished. The special, juggling a little now in deference to the smoking hot box, was rounding one of the long hill curves to the left. Suddenly the air brakes ground sharply upon the wheels, shrill whistlings from the 201 sounded the stop signal, and past the end of the slowing service car a trackman ran frantically up the line toward the following passenger, yelling and swinging his striped coat like a madman.

Lidgerwood caught a fleeting glimpse of a section gang's green "slow" flag lying toppled over between the rails two feet to the rear. He called to Bradford to jump and then ran forward to drag the Japanese cook out of his galley.

It was all over in a moment. There was time enough for Lidgerwood to rush the little Tadashi to the forward vestibule, to fling him into space and to make his own flying leap for safety before the crisis came. Happily there was no wreck, though the margin of escape was the narrowest. Williams stuck to his post in the cab of the 201, applying and releasing the brakes and running as far ahead as he dared upon the loosened timbers of the trestle, for which the section gang's slow flag was out. Carter, the engineer on the passenger train, jumped, but his fireman was of better mettle and stayed with the machine up to the moment when the shuddering mass of iron and steel thrust its pilot under the trucks of Lidgerwood's car.

It was an excellent opportunity for eloquence of the explosive sort, and when the dust had settled the track and trainmen were evidently expecting the well deserved tongue lashing. But in crises like this the new superintendent was at his self contained best. Instead of sweating at the men, he gave his orders quietly and with the brisk certainty of one who knows his trade.

"The passenger train was to keep ten minutes behind its own time until the next siding was passed, making up beyond that point if its running orders permitted. The special was to proceed on 201's time to the siding in question, at which point it would slacken and let the passenger precede it. Bradford was in the cab of 201 when Williams eased his engine and the service car over the unsafe trestle and latched the throttle open for the speeding race down the hill curves toward the wide valley plain of the Red desert.

"Turn it loose, Andy," said the big engineer when the requisite number of miles of silence had been ticked off by their space devouring wheels.

"What all do you think of Mr. Collier and Cuffs by this time?"

Bradford took a leisurely minute to whistle a clanging cue from his pocket plug.

"Well, first dash out of the box I allowed he was some leech. He jumped me like a jack rabbit for takin' a clear-ance right under Jim Carter's nose that away. Then we got down to business, and I was just beginnin' to get on to my gait a little when the green nag butted in."

"Gait fits the laundry part of him?" suggested Williams.

"It does and it don't. If that little tailor made man don't get his finger nashed or somethin' and have to go home and get somebody to poultice it things are goin' to have a spell of happenin' on this little old cow trail of a railroad. That's my ante."

"Think he's got the sand, Andy?" said Williams.

"This time you've got me goin'," was the slow reply. "I ain't so blamed sure. One kind of sand he's got to a dead moral certainty. When he saw what was due to happen back yonder at the covert he told me '23,' all right, but he took time to take up ahead and yank that Jap cook out of the car kitchen before he turned his own little hand spring into the ditch."

"That kind of sand is all right in God's country, Andy, but out here you got to know how to fight with pitchforks and such other tools as come handy. The new boss may be that kind of a scrapper, but he sure don't look it."

"No," agreed Bradford, ruminating thoughtfully.

Williams, brave and broad chested, leaned against his box.

"He'd better have nerve or get some," he commented. "Father says it's him for an early wooden overcoat and a trip back home in the express car."

The special was now on the siding. Back in the service car Lidgerwood was sitting quietly in the doorway smoking his delayed after breakfast cigar and timing the upcoming passenger train, watch in hand. Carter was ten minutes, to the exact second, behind his schedule time when the train thundered past on the main track, and Lidgerwood pocketed his watch with a smile of satisfaction. It was the first small victory in the campaign for reform.

To Remove Tar.

To remove tar from clothes, rub butter or lard over the tar spots, then wash with soap and water. Apply oil of turpentine and let remain for one hour, then wash again and the tar will be removed. To remove tar from the hands, rub with outside of fresh orange or lemon peel, and wipe dry immediately.

Silver in the Ocean.

A German technical journal has gone to the trouble of estimating that the water of the whole ocean contains in solution over 2,000,000 tons of pure silver.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

COMING CALL.

The flies to the world below
Their haggard heads incline,
And very pleasantly they call:
"Come up! The air's fine!"

Find an aviator.

A Man's First Care.

A man's first care should be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart: his next, to escape the censures of the world. If the last interferes with the former, it ought to be entirely neglected; but otherwise there cannot be a greater satisfaction to an honest mind, than to see these approbations which it gives itself seconded by the applause of the public.—Joseph Addison.

The Race is to the Fleet.

"This is what you call welcoming the fleet," murmured the hundred-yard sprinter as he breasted the tape in eight and four-fifths seconds, amid the applause of the multitude.—Judge.

Like Many Another.

"I am always so busy doing nothing," remarked the Little Spaceman, "that I never have time to do anything else."

The Skin and Not the Blood.

Until recently it has been a generally accepted proposition that eczema was a disease of the blood, and that in order to cure it, the blood must be purified and enriched by internal remedies. Careful experiments and scientific investigations have taught us that eczema is purely a skin disease, and curable through the skin alone. A great majority of persons afflicted with eczema have no other ailment, which is accepted as positive proof that it is purely a skin disease. Having established this fact, the chemists of the American Drug and Press Association set about to compound a prescription that would successfully cope with this disease, and after much investigating brought out Meritol Eczema Remedy, the effect of which is marvelous. If you are afflicted with this loathsome disease, do not delay trying Meritol Eczema Remedy. You will be surprised at its prompt action, its soothing effect and its permanent results. Reliable Drug Co. are commissioned vills.

Great Writer Not Fond of Music.

Dr. Johnson was among those who had no high opinion of music. He admitted that "if he had learnt music he should have been afraid to play," but explained that "it was a method of employing the mind without the labor of thinking at all and with some applause for a man's self." He also confessed that "he knew a drum from a trumpet and a bagpipe from a guitar which was about the extent of his knowledge of music."

Substitute for Beeswax.

A wax from the rubber palm of Madagascar is expected to prove a substitute for beeswax. The leaves of the palm are beaten to small fragments on a mat and then boiled, the wax so obtained being collected and kneaded into small cakes. The new material is being tested for bottling purposes, phonograph cylinders, etc.

THEY SAY I CURE. DO YOU BELIEVE THEM?

To convince yourself write and ask these people:

John Burns, Watertown, Wis., cured of Piles of 20 YEARS' DURATION. This was a REMARKABLE CURE.

Mr. Arthur Brown, Columbus, Wis., cured of hemorrhoids. Mr. Otto Strohach, J. P. D., Beaver Dam, Wis., cured of double rupture. Frank L. Colton, R. F. D., Reesville, Wis., Wm. Bender, Beaver Dam, Wis., 8 year old son of Herman Miller, Iron Ridge, Wis., all cured of rupture in five treatments, WITHOUT THE USE OF KNIFE OR LOSING A DAY'S TIME.

Mr. Henry Koffman, Hillbert, Wis., R. F. D. 4, cured of ringing in ears and nasal catarrh of YEARS' DURATION.

Mrs. Albert Erickson, Lowell, Wis., of severe female trouble.

Mrs. Lillian Hudson, Palmer Hotel, Fond du Lac, Wis., cured of trophic ulcer of leg after having been under the care of over six different doctors and operated on twice. Cured in 60 days. A remarkable case.

Wm. Norenburg, Lowell, Wis., cured of rupture WITHOUT USE OF KNIFE OR OPERATION. Write him.

Henry Redmond, Red Granite, Wis., cured of Chronic Appendicitis.

Dr. Goddard has been ESPECIALLY SUCCESSFUL in treating Chronic Appendicitis, WITHOUT OPERATION.

These names given are only a very few of hundreds of cured cases on file in his offices in Milwaukee and are selected because they are people whose gratitude for what the doctor has done for them, prompts them to allow him to refer to them.

Ladies suffering from troubles peculiar to their sex should by all means secure the doctor's advice. ALL MATRICES SACRILEGIOUSLY CONFIDENTIAL. REMEMBER! Dr. Goddard accedes no incurable cases. REMEMBER! He gives a written loan guarantee to cure in those cases he does accept. REMEMBER! His charges are within the reach of all.

Dr. Goddard, Milwaukee Specialist, will be at the Myers Hotel Tuesday July 18th, 1911. Call or write.

The Thistledown

PEOPLE passing through the great meadow might have thought that the two glittering silver dots in the eyes of the old Thistle were two drops of early morning dew, but they were not.

The old Thistle was crying, and those two glittering dots were beautiful tears. They were tears of love, for on that day he was going to say goodbye to his little son Thistledown, who was going out in the world to see the sights.

It was the little Breeze who was to accompany little Thistledown on his travels.

"You will not forget me, will you, son?" said the old Thistle, brushing away the tears.

The little Thistledown nestled just a bit closer.

"Never," he said softly, "you have always been so very good to me."

"And sometime you will come back to see me?" questioned the old Thistle, with hope in his voice.

"Surely, sometime," whispered the Thistledown.

And then from away off there came a soft whistling sound and presently the little Breeze who was to accompany little Thistledown floated by, then, turning, came back again.

"Good morning," he said pleasantly,

My, how they flew along. And such wonderful sights did little Thistle-old Thistle look up with joy in his downy eyes. How little the houses looked away down below him, how funny the trees looked, and never before did he realize that the clouds say,

"Are you ready, little Thistledown?" wore the same clothes that he did. "All ready," shouted the Thistle-down. "Goodbye, father, dear."

"Goodbye," said the old Thistle, and away whisked the Thistledown on the back of the little Breeze.

Now towards nightfall the Breeze had other work to do, and spying a beautiful flower garden far off below, he softly settled down and snugly tucked little Thistledown deep down in the heart of a beautiful rose.

"I will call for you in the morning," he said, "Goodnight."

Away he flew.

The next morning back he came again and for days and days little Thistledown saw sights that he had never dreamed of before.

But the wonderful part of the whole story is that one night the little Breeze left little Thistledown in a pretty bird's nest high up on the bough of a tree and when little Thistledown peeked out over the edge the next morning he was overjoyed for there below him in the meadow was his dear father Thistle and his face was as rosy as an apple.

"Oh father, how do you do?"

My, how they flew along. And such wonderful sights did little Thistle-old Thistle look up with joy in his downy eyes. How little the houses looked away down below him, how funny the trees looked, and never before did he realize that the clouds say,

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday July 17, 1871.

Saturday's Race.

The trotting match between Dearborn and Conkley's mares on Saturday last, was poorly attended and by little interest was manifested. The Dearborn mare easily won the race in two straight heats, the best time being over three minutes.

Shooting Tournament.

The shooting tournament at the driving park in this city, commencing tomorrow, promises to be an interesting affair, as the best shots from neighboring and distant cities are to be present. The tournament is under the auspices of the shooting club of our city, and everything will be conducted in an orderly manner. No spirituous liquors of any kind will be sold on the premises, and all parties conducting themselves improperly will be removed from the grounds. An efficient police force will be present to see that order is maintained.

The Drought.

Growing crops throughout Rock County are suffering from the lack of rain, and unless we are favored with drenching showers within a week or two the tobacco crop will be materially injured. Setting of the plants is not yet finished and without rain it will be useless to transplant from the beds to the fields.

Brief Items.

Master Michael Murphy has left us with a basket of early potatoes that are ahead of anything of the kind that we have seen this season.

Rock River is nine inches higher than it has been in ten years, in the month of July.

Above, Over and On.

The three words, above, over and on are nearly synonymous, but there is a clear distinction between them when they are used literally. The stars are above us, but they are not always over us, as a cloud is over the sun; nor are they on us, as a man's hat is on his head. The hat and the cloud are above, but the stars are not over, nor are the clouds on us.

Unwanted "Wants."

A great number of our wants are special wants of the imagination; we want them simply because we think that we want them; they give us no enjoyment when we obtain them; the want of them is only known by a disagreeable feeling that we are without them.

Will Power and Cheerfulness.

Through will power you may cheer yourself. Think of noble things, think of all who have overcome grief and disappointment, and take the best of life with faith and with courage.
